

ASSOCIATION OF OPEN UNIVERSITY GRADUATES in SCOTLAND

Edition 1

NATION 11 NEWSLETTER

July 2012

Hello to all AOUG members in Scotland. My name is Violet and I am the new Development Officer. I was elected in May 2012. I shall be sending information to you, including these Newsletters, until I can encourage a local member to become the Executive Representative for Scotland. I was, until recently, the Executive Representative for Region 09, North I visit Scotland a lot and love Aberdeenshire especially going up Glen Shee on the way there. I went on what was termed a Safari around the Balmoral estate seeing all the many areas where Queen Victoria and her husband Prince Albert enjoyed their Scottish home with her children.

I gained my BSc. Hons (Open) in 2001, but I had started studying some time before, and had two breaks, returning in 1998 when I completed five modules to then graduate in 2001. I am a great supporter of the OU and like to encourage you to use all of the many websites the university provides. OpenLearn for instance is very useful, supplying free courses, where one can get a taste of an OU course before officially applying for it. And then there is Platform which provides a forum for discussion on topics concerning the OU and many other general topics which are in the news nationally concerning education and social events. The Open University has many societies, history, writing and the one I like a lot the OU Shakespeare Society which produces a magazine "A Groat's Worth of Wit", to which members can contribute reviews and essays.

Association News:

The AGM at Liverpool – May 2012: The AGM weekend was held in the historic Adelphi Hotel built in 1914 which had all the grandeur of an Atlantic liner of the period. Large meeting rooms with high ceilings and bedrooms with four poster beds. The formal business of the AGM, the reports on finance and the election of Officers and Executive Representatives over, there was a Gala Dinner on the Saturday night when members were entertained by a duo who gave a delightful presentation of Beatles songs and members danced the night away to the tunes. The excursions around Liverpool were a great success. A success illustrated, in the new edition of OMEGA, which will reach you shortly.

The AGM: Members, who came from many parts of the UK and even from Malta, were seated just after 9am. There were reports from the Chairman and Treasurer leading to healthy discussions, with the results of recent elections for Treasurer, Publicity Officer and Development Officer also given. The audience participated widely in regard to the discussion on the future relationship of AOUG and The Open University. Many members had sent in their comments to the Chairman regarding his request in a previous edition of OMEGA.

AOUG Founder, Olga Camm: Sadly this grand lady, aged 93, died within a few weeks of the AGM. She was a fine example of living a full life to the end. Chairman Ramsey Hertzog spoke of her many abilities at her funeral which was held in Blackpool.

Development of the Newsletter for Scotland

It is intended that these local Newsletters will, whenever possible, be sent out by e-mail as the postal charges would make such regular contact impossible. However many of you have not as yet submitted your e-mail address to the AOUG Office, or have changed your e-mail address without letting the AOUG Office know of this change. Thus we can not contact you this way. We therefore would like to ask you once again that if you do have an e-mail address that you contact AOUG Office and ensure that we have the correct version o the Data Base – just one dot or hyphen in the wrong place and it bounces back. However if you do not have an e-mail or would prefer to receive this Newsletter by post, we ask you to make a donation of second class stamps to the AOUG Office, which will then be forwarded onto your new Executive Representative, just a soon as they are co-opted.

Content of these Newsletters in the future will also rely a lot on your contributions so please send something into the AOUG Office as soon as possible. These Local Newsletters are not restricted to OU or AOUG related items and so if it interests you, it is sure to interests another member, so send it in for consideration in the next edition.
